

Landscape Designer

The heart of Campbell's is our team of passionate plant lovers who like to get their hands dirty to grow and sell the best plants in Lincoln. We've come together from a range of disciplines and experiences, connected by our commitment to learning and growing together. For over 100 years, Campbell's has been making an enduring impact on our community from backyard retreats to iconic public landscapes. We're always on the lookout for new team members with an eye for design, an eagerness to learn, and great customer service skills.

Our landscape designers incorporate the customer's vision with their own experience and education to create healthy, beautiful spaces. Offering the pinnacle of customer care, they oversee the craftsmanship of their installation crews and manage maintenance according to the customer's needs. Staying up to date with changes in trends, plant research, and environmental pressures allows them to coach their customers through landscaping challenges. They represent Campbell's outside of the garden center, building relationships with homeowners, businesses, and organizations in our community.
